ANNUAL MUSICAL FESTIVAL

All music lovers in the district are anxiously looking forward to the annual Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival, to be held in the Columbus hall, Blairmore, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Copies of programme are just off The Enterprise presses, and judging by the number of entries in the various classes some keen competitions can be expected.

He moved to London, England, early in 1914, where he studied with Max Vogrich. In 1925 he was appointed to the staff of the Royal Academy of Music as professor of pianoforte and was awarded the degree of honorary member of the academy in 1932. In the summers of 1941-1942 he directed the music department of the School of Fine Arts in Banff, and has been re-engaged for 1943.

A RIGHT SPIRITED LETTER

The following letter was received by The Enterprise this week from Edmonton:

"Dear Bart: I am enclosing cheque for $4.00 for two years sub. The reason I am doing this is that you published, some little time ago, a compelling reason why a subscriber should keep one jump ahead."

"I'm d— if I remember just what the reason was, but it was a good one."

"Shows how the pen is mightier than the memory: the impression stays after the words are forgotten. Sincerely yours, L.C.S."

CANADIAN WOMEN'S ARMY CORPS RECRUITING OFFICERS TO VISIT THE PASS

PTE. VERA SHIRLEY

LT. E. LUCILLE INNES

A mobile recruiting unit of the Canadian Women's Army Corps leaves Calgary on Monday next, April 19th, to spend a fortnight in southwestern Alberta. The party will be composed of Second Lieut. E. Lucille Innes and Pte. Vera Shirley of the C.W.A.C. recruiting staff, and the transport driver. They will take a side trip to the Pass after visiting other points between Vulcan, Lethbridge and the Crow.

Particularly required at the present time are cooks, provosts, stenographers and accountants, or girls who can be trained for these trades. There are forty other trades in which girls may take trades training after completing their basic training.

Applications may be made to the local civilian advisors, or to the C.W.A.C. recruiting centre in Calgary. Interviews may be arranged with the members of the mobile unit as they tour through the southwest. Their itinerary includes:

Tuesday, April 27th, Hillcrest, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.; Bellevue, 3 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Wednesday, April 28th, Blairmore, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., civilian advisors, Mrs. F. W. Smith and Mr. J. W. Gresham; Coleman, 2 p.m. to 6 p.m., civilian advisors, Mrs. R. Parry and Mr. A. Easton.

The Canadian Women's Army Corps forms part of the Canadian Active Army, and is officially organized on a strictly military basis from coast to coast in Canada. Each recruit receives a top-grade soldier for active service. Thus, for the first time in history Canadian women are now given the opportunity of serving beside their menfolk as soldiers, either in Canada or overseas. Already over 5,000 women have answered the call, and by the efficiency of their work won official recognition for the C.W.A.C. as an important and integral part of the Canadian Army.

All C.W.A.C. personnel are serving as clerks, typists, stenographers, switchboard operators, laboratory and X-ray technicians, drivers, mechanics, radio operators, cooks, waitresses, draughtswomen, bookkeepers, dental and hospital assistants, laundresses, electricians, and in many other important roles where they can release men for more active service.

All C.W.A.C. recruits undergo a four weeks training course at a basic training centre. Here a special syllabus is given and general training conducted along the same lines as for men soldiers, with due consideration to the difference in physique and endurance. Upon completion of this course, recruits are posted to various military districts. The C.W.A.C. does not receive small arms drill, but is instructed in the art of self defence and in protection against aircraft and gas.

C.W.A.C. recruits enlist for service anywhere in Canada and overseas for the duration of war, and twelve months thereafter should their services be required. They receive 90 cents a day as privates and 95 cents after three months, in addition to a special allowance of $1.25 per day when living out of barracks. Pay and allowances increase with promotions. They receive exactly the same rations as other units of the army, first quality food, cooked by experts on a carefully planned diet.

Canada needs thousands of women for service NOW. Release a man for combat duty. Apply at the nearest recruiting office today.

COMMUNITIES TO COMPETE FOR VICTORY LOAN TROPHY

The National War Finance Committee has announced that the organization will present a Victory Loan trophy to the community which evolves and executes the best promotional idea in support of the Fourth Victory Loan campaign. The contest will be open to all communities, ranging from the smallest village to the largest city. All communities will have an equal chance to win the award, the committee declared, because judges will be influenced by the value of the promotional idea in relation to the size of the locality served.

Contest entries are to be made by local War Finance Committee units on behalf of the community or communities in their territory on or before April 24. Preliminary judging will be carried out by provinces, the best three entries in each province to be passed on for final decision by a national committee of judges.

The merit of the ideas will be judged by an examination of the newspaper stories created by the events.

An early announcement will be made regarding the nature of the trophies to be awarded. They will fittingly recognize the distinguished services performed by committees on behalf of themselves, the nation and the armed forces overseas.

"V" COWLEY HAPPENINGS

The members of the Cowley Masonic lodge were at home to a number of friends in their hall on Wednesday evening, when they staged a bingo party. A very enjoyable time was reported.

George Dwyer has purchased the old Jimmy McLean place, six miles north of Lundbreck.

Mrs. Robert Listeron entertained the Ladies' Aid of the Anglican church at her home on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. William Dwyer and small daughter Mary are paying a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Smith at Lundbreck this week.

A dance will be held in the hall here on Friday night of this week.

Correcting printers' error, an item in last week's issue of The Enterprise should have read: Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Barkhart moved from the old Cooper place to a farm below Pincher Creek last week, and Mr. and Mrs. D. Thibart, who have resided on the old George Buchanan place near the South Fork bridge for several years, have recently moved to the old E. A. Simister place near Lundbreck.

The music festival secretary reports 275 entries in hand.

Alberta's Red Cross fund campaign is reported still going strong with 48 per cent over quota in hand. The province's quota was $400,000.

The Dominion government has disallowed the Alberta land sales prohibition act which prohibited the acquisition of land by enemy aliens or Hutterites.

W. J. Huntingford, of Wainwright, deputy grand master of the Alberta I.O.O.F., is making official visits to lodges in the northern and central part of the province.

A new son has arrived to Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Wares at Detroit on April 14th. Mrs. Wares was formerly Miss Evelyn Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Walker, of Pincher Creek. On hearing the good news, Stan suffered a swelling — — — toe.

Miss Veronica Janostak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Janostak, of Coleman, was among the five civilian nurses who received letters of recommendation for her work in first aid stations at Dutch Harbor, Alaska, during the Japanese air attack last June. Thirteen years ago Miss Janostak left Coleman to train in the Sacred Heart hospital at Spokane, Wash.

ALEX. BECK PASSES AT VANCOUVER

Word was received from Vancouver Monday, stating that Mr. Alex. Beck, well known and long resident of West Coleman, had passed away at the ripe age of 80 years less one month. Mr. Beck had been ill for several years, and left Coleman last June for the coast in the hope of recuperating.

A native of Quebec province, Mr. Beck came to the Crows' Nest Pass with the construction of the Pass line of the C.P.R., when he travelled by foot from Lundbreck to Fernie, there to take up residence. He moved with his family to Coleman about 1913 and has resided there ever since. Of late years he has been associated with his sons-in-law, Doc Barbour and Norman MacAulay, in the operation of the Star Creek Fox Farm. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Barbour, of Lethbridge, and Mrs. MacAulay, of Coleman; three sons, Fernie and Wallace at Vancouver, and William at Hillcrest; also a brother, Thomas Beck, of Fernie. His wife predeceased him two years ago.

The remains were brought to Coleman by Wednesday's train, and were laid to rest Thursday afternoon in the family plot, following service held in the United church.

"V" A SOLDIER'S LETTER

I received your most welcome parcel. It's sure good of you to take all the trouble you do with us lads over here, but if you could see the looks on the boys' faces when one of them starts to open a parcel—all will look who can get their heads in. Gosh! they will say, a parcel from home. We might live a couple of thousand miles apart, but it's always home. Every one shares up and it makes it nice. We have had a fine fall here and it is still warm, but believe me, none of us would trade an acre of land in Alberta for all of England if we had to stay here, though England is a lovely country and the people are tops, but there's no place like home is a true saying, and for all her storms and drought Alberta sure turns out some of the toughest men in the world. I heard an M.O. say the healthiest came from Alberta and New Brunswick. I hope most of us will be home by next Christmas. I am going on my leave on the 20th of this month and will visit my wife's aunts, one in Gallaehills, Scotland, and one in Sunderland, Durham County. They have been bombed out three times, and are both over 70, and my aunt is not very strong. She is confined to her bed about half the time—has been for years, but during the war she has felt better than she has for years, so people must thrive on hardship. You folks have had a hard fall to get on with the harvesting, I hear. Well, hope for a better one next year, ours is a great next year country. I must close, wishing you all success and a Happy Christmas and Merry New Year and happiness to your families, for you sure make others happy. —From Private Ralph Vroom to the Pincher Creek W.A.S.A.

Some little pressure is being brought to bear upon the Alberta fish and game authorities to if possible make a slight change in the fishing open season dates, suggesting that in Southern Alberta trout fishing be permitted between April 15 or 30 to May 31, close during the high water period of June and July, to open again during August and September. Such changes could easily be arranged.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 18

PETER AND JOHN IN GETHSEMANE

Golden text: Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation. Matthew 26:41.

Lesson: Matthew 26:36-46; John 18:10-12.

Devotional reading: Hebrews 2:17, 18; 4:14-16.

Explanations and Comments
Christ's Agony in Gethsemane and the Disciples' Failure There, Matthew 26:36-46. Out from the Upper Room where he had held his last meeting with his disciples, Jesus and the eleven (Judas having gone to arrange with his enemies to arrest him), along the silent streets, through the eastern gate of the city, down the steep slope of the ravine and across the Brook Kedron, then up the slope of the Mount of Olives to the Garden of Gethsemane, or orchard of the oil press, as its name signifies.

Bidding eight of the eleven tarry near the entrance of the Garden while he went farther to pray, Jesus took with him only the chosen three who loved him best, Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, James and John, and bade them stay nearer him. He was relying upon their sympathetic presence and watchful care in a time when his soul was exceeding sorrowful, even unto death.

"Jesus felt a human hunger for companionship. Jesus was personally sociable. He evidently enjoyed mixing with people. He liked the give-and-take of life. He had friendships. There was a group of men and women gathered around him who gave him their devoted loyalty. He in turn needed them. The denial of Peter and the betrayal of Judas hurt him partly because they were defections from the comradeship of his group. In Gethsemane he craved friendship. He prayed to God, but he reached out for Peter and John. The longing for friendship and the unrest of loneliness was a proof of a truly human and social nature." (Walter Rauschenbush).

Going a little farther among the trees, out of the moonlight probably, for it was the Passover and full moon, Jesus cast himself on the ground in an agony of spirit and prayed that if possible the cup might pass away. The prayer was not that if God had the power to take away the cup, but if it were in accordance with his father's will that it should be removed. "The cup" stands for an appointed portion; in Ps. 75:8 it is the portion of judgment; in Ps. 23:5 of mercy; here, of suffering and death.

Jesus went back to the disciples as though seeking their sympathy, but found them sleeping. To Peter he said, "What, could ye not watch with me one hour?" he consoled, "that ye enter not into temptation." "Watch and pray, all of you, so that ye may not slip into temptation." And then excused his faithless disciples, saying, "The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak."

NO LONGER EMPTY

Coal trucks which formerly travelled empty from New York to the mines now carry sugar, potatoes and materials needed by war plants on their outbound trips.

Jack Miner

Jack Miner celebrated his 78th birthday on April 10.

During the past year the press has given him credit for publicizing Canada and promoting tourist trade more than any other single individual in the Dominion, while one editorial has referred to him as "Canada's Ambassador of Good Will." For 35 years Jack Miner toured both Canada and the U.S. at his own expense on lecture tours filling the largest auditoriums in both countries and preached the value of tourists coming into Canada.

Certainly no one will question but that his writings, his lectures on his life and his bird sanctuary, which is a living example, has done more than any individual to awaken the interest in the value of Bird Life to not only Canada, but to all North America. Jack Miner's name is a household word when you mention bird life. At no expense to anyone he toured the western provinces of Canada seven times in five years preaching restoration with the result many windbreaks can be seen for miles on the prairies planted around farm homes and as wind breaks. The idea in many cases was awakened by him twenty or more years ago. His scientific research work in banding bird life and studying its route of migration can't be valued in dollars and cents from the educational standpoint while his missionary work in using the fowl of the air to spread the gospel, has caused many religious periodicals to refer to him as the greatest missionary on the continent.

Have Been Improved

Lights On Life-Jackets Of Merchant Navy More Efficient

The light which has for some time been a part of the life-jacket used by the Merchant Navy has been further amplified and improved. Not only is it now more efficient, but quicker deliveries can be made.

The light itself is attached to the shoulder of the jacket by a spring clip which cannot be washed off even in the heaviest seas. The battery is in a pocket in the jacket, and the light is switched on by inserting a captive plug into a socket on top of the battery container. This can be done with two fingers, and no special instructions are necessary.

The light can be seen over great distances at sea, and many lives have been saved by it.

Tired Of Hardships

But German People Not Thinking Of Revolting Against Hitler

Maurice Hindus, in the American Magazine, says the information in letters found on the German dead, intimate and personal as it is, leads to some striking deductions. The people inside Germany hate the war and want it to end. They are tired of hardships, sick of sacrifices. They lament the moral disintegration of their young women; they shudder at air raids; they weep over their dead. But nowhere do they betray the least suggestion of German guilt or regret for horrors which the German armies perpetrate.

Hard as is their life, they know neither starvation nor desperation. Nor do they expect Germany to lose the war. To expect them at this time to revolt against Hitler is as futile and puerile as to expect the Fuehrer to live up to his promises or treaties. Diaries of the German dead, particularly Nazi officers, support these conclusions. The Russians have gathered thousands of these.

COAL CONTROLLER WARNING

Compelling necessity of co-operation of the consumer public in obtaining supplies of coal for next winter at once in order to avert shortages is now urged by W. J. Taylor, regional coal controller.

"Unless the consumer public co-operate now and help us to make up the slack season which will occur during May and June, the situation next year will be as acute, if not more so than last," the controller warns.

Mr. Taylor advises schools, churches, public buildings and the civilian population to begin at once to store coal in piles and bins, and to contact coal dealers to see that they place orders now to fill their storage space. This, with available production in cold weather to replenish the stocks would minimize the threat of a possible shortage, he states.

"We must keep mines operating steadily. If we lose April, May and June production as we did last year, the suffering will be far greater. The mines cannot produce sufficient coal from July through March to supply needs."

"Military camps and line companies have already commenced to stock pile their supply, but their storage is not sufficient. We must have orders for domestic and stoker sizes coming in at regular intervals from the consumer," says Mr. Taylor.

Different secretaries and municipal authorities who applied for emergency coal during the past season have all received information from the controller, stating the need to avert a similar situation next season.

NO AGE LIMIT SET

FOR MEAT RATION

There isn't an age limit in the meat ration announced by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board for May. Infants, children and adults will be allowed the same weekly ration of two pounds, carcass weight.

Nutritionists on the staff of the price board's food administration point out that scraped beef is usually added to an infant's diet at about nine months of age. Other forms of meat are part of a baby's diet at an early age.

Baby hasn't centred all the interest, however. Intensive studies have been made of the nutritional needs of adult workers. On advice of the advisory committee the foods administration has been careful to keep the meat ration large enough to look after the needs of any person in any occupation.

THE PASS EIGHTEEN YEARS AGO

(The Blairmore Enterprise, 1925)
April 30.—Mrs. Harry Meade passed away at Bellevue on Thursday of last week. Funeral on Sunday was very largely attended. Rev. J. W. Oliver was in charge of the service at the Bellevue Unity church, assisted by Rev. W. T. Young, of Blairmore.

The Canadian Oil Company were seeking a warehouse in Blairmore. By a vote of 183 to 91, Hillcrest miners decided to return to work and sign up a new agreement. About forty men, who became tired of waiting for a settlement, accepted jobs at Coleman.

The congregation of the Blairmore Union church invited Rev. W. T. Young to carry on for another year. John Kerr was president of the Bellevue Fish and Game Association, with James Fisher as secretary-treasurer.

The Blairmore Board of Trade was reorganized this week, with L. L. Morgan, president (re-elected); Capt. W. A. Beebe, vice-president; W. Bird, secretary; and W. A. Henderson, treasurer.

W. H. More's violin pupils of Blairmore were to play at a recital at Pincher Creek on May 11th. They appeared at Cowley this week before a large and appreciative audience.

A sign appeared in a Calgary barber shop, reading: "Haircuts 50 cents, conversation 10 cents extra."

Mrs. D. A. Howe and children arrived during the week from England. Gus met them at Medicine Hat.

May 7.—The Ladies' Aid of the Blairmore Union church elected officers this week as follows: Rev. W. T. Young, honorary president; Mrs. W. Howe, president; Mrs. McKay, vice-president; Mrs. R. Dicken, secretary; and Mrs. D. A. Howe, treasurer.

G. H. Thompson and family left here this week to take up residence in Calgary.

Food administration officials explain that the two-pound meat ration means two pounds of meat by weight as the meat comes from the carcass, that is, including bone. Some cuts more bone than others, some have none at all. Under rationing the cuts will be classified and those with bone content will be apportioned on the basis of more than two pounds per person, while cuts with no bone will be on a basis of less than two pounds. Cuts of meat containing more than 50 per cent of bone will not be rationed at all. Neither will fancy meats, such as liver, heart, kidneys, etc.

Every Cent Counts

No amount you can lend your country is too small. Steel helmets cost $2.30, but are not complete without a small threaded washer costing one cent. Two cents will pay for a case for anti-gas eyeshields; three cents for a large C. W. A. C. button; four cents for a comb. And so it goes, right up to 97 cents for a belt; 98 cents for a two-quart coffee pot; 99 cents for three pairs of anti-gas over-mittens, and $1 for a Wren's shirt.

Nearly 700 boys from the Working Boys' Home in Toronto have joined the armed forces. In the Third Victory Loan, boys of the home bought Bonds to the value of $3,700, bringing their total investment in victory to $10,000.

The Tribune owes an apology to that "Aberhart robin" we mentioned having seen Wednesday of last week. That bird was a true harbinger of spring. He didn't try to fool anybody, as the almost summer-like weather since his arrival has amply backed up his promise of better weather ahead. "Ain't nature grand!" What a fine world this would be if our politicians were as truthful and dependable as are so many of our feathered and furred friends. Of course, the skunk is not a very pleasant close companion, but then he does not pretend to be anything other than a skunk. Some politicians we know would have great difficulty in attaining even that degree of ordinary skunk decency.—Tribune.

Johnny had seen his mother measure a yard by holding one end to her nose and the other at arm's length. One day he came running in with a piece of rope. "Here, mother," he said, "smell this and see how long it is."

"Now, children," said the teacher, "I want you to watch this experiment carefully, and you will learn a valuable lesson." She then held up a glass containing a quantity of pure water, containing a quantity of pure water, of whiskey. "See," she said. "I will put this earthworm in the water, watch it." The worm seemed quite happy. "Now," she continued, "watch as I transfer it to the whiskey." As soon as the worm touched the whiskey it rolled over and died. "Think hard, children," she continued. "What lesson does this teach us?" After a moment Johnny raised his hand. "I know, teacher," he said. "If you have worms you had better drink whiskey."

The E. B. Eddy newspaper mill at Hull, Quebec, has been closed down for the duration, the reason advanced being a shortage of pulpwood caused by the labor situation in woodlands operations and difficulties encountered during the winter in bringing purchased pulpwood to the mills.

Yes, we have a big job to do yet

WHEN they come home—those boys who are fighting now—make them want to stay home. Make them happy and contented on the farm. They will have new ideas they want to try out. They may want to go in for new breeding stock; new crops; work out a drainage or irrigation project; do a big job of fertilizing. You are wearing out implements and equipment which cannot be replaced now. You may want to erect new buildings, or to add to present buildings. You may wish to modernize your farm with water or electricity. You may want a new motor car—new conveniences and comforts for your home. These things cost money. Save money now and invest your savings in Victory Bonds. They will provide cash for things you will need when the war ends.

You can buy Victory Bonds for cash in a lump sum, or you can arrange to pay for them in convenient instalments over a period of six months.

Your Victory Bond salesman will be glad to tell you full particulars.

WHAT IS A VICTORY BOND?

A VICTORY BOND is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the full face value of the Bond at the time stipulated, with half-yearly interest at the rate of 3% per annum until maturity. A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada. The entire resources of the Dominion stand behind it. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest. A Victory Bond is an asset more readily converted into cash than any other security.

CANADIAN PACIFIC GOES ALL OUT IN WAR.

The phases of the Canadian Pacific Railway's war effort are manifold and far-reaching. On land, on sea and in the air, the company is making a vast contribution toward ultimate victory.

Trains haul untold tons of vital war materials across the country, and carry and feed troops on the move to and from training centres and to embarkation points.

Company passenger and cargo ships, garbed in drab war paint, are on Admiralty service, playing the perilous waters of the seven seas. Many of the company's vessels have been lost by enemy action; chief casualty being the famed luxury liner, Empress of Britain.

Canadian Pacific Air Lines, besides flying passengers, freight and mail, also operates six air observer schools and one elementary flying training school in conjunction with the Royal Canadian Air Force as part of the British Commonwealth Air Training Scheme to make a major contribution to the Empire's fighting air power.

At company shops, the sinews of war are manufactured; at one big shop, Valentine tanks were made; at another, naval guns are being turned out.

More than 14,000 members of the company's peacetime personnel are now on active service and to help fill the gaps thus created at home, women workers are coming increasingly to the fore in taking men's places. They serve as car-checkers and "call-boys" and some have already invaded the round-houses—a once-exclusively male territory—as engine wipers, and some even nurse ambitions to drive engines one day.

And employees are steadfastly upholding the home-front end with all-out support of Victory Loan campaigns, Red Cross drives, war relief measures, blood donations, and by the work of women's service organizations within the company.

"Not me!" said Benito. "It gives me too much courage. I might wait behind when the rest of you are running."

Plans Air Service Across Ocean

Trans-Canada Air Lines, Canada's national air service, plans a trans-oceanic service, according to an announcement recently made by H. J. Symington, K.C., President, in his annual report tabled in the House of Commons. Mr. Symington declared that T.C.A. is destined to play an important part in world aviation. "Canada occupies an important position in the future of the air world," he said. "The shortest routes between North America and Europe and Asia cross Canada and weather conditions are stable. Formulation of detailed programmes must await developments."

Three T.C.A. flight crews have been flying the Atlantic supplementing the crews of British Overseas Airways Corporation, the report revealed. The crews assigned to this duty in 1942 were composed of captain, first officer, flight engineer, navigator and radio operator. The navigators were seconded from the R.C.A.F. for duty with the company. At Montreal airport maintenance and overhaul on the British Overseas air transport is performed by T.C.A. More than 200 mechanics are engaged in this work.

H. J. Symington, K.C.

Mr. Symington also announced that Trans-Canada plans a shorter route for its Canadian transatlantic service, the new route when opened to be over Lakes Huron and Superior, instead of to the north of those lakes, and thence to points of exit in western Canada and the Yukon territory.

Extension of the company's service to the Yukon Territory and Alaska has been deferred; Alaska having been declared a military zone by the United States Government and all civil flying operations prohibited there.

Save ALL WASTE fats & bones

GLYCERINE FOR ADOLPH BENITO & SONS

Canada needs and must have every spoonful of fat drippings, every piece of scrap fat and every bone from every kitchen in Canada. Fat makes glycerine and glycerine makes high explosives. Bones produce fat. Also glue for war industry.

Don't throw away a single drop of used fat—bacon grease, meat drippings, frying fat—every kind you use. They are urgently needed to win this war.

Strain all drippings through an ordinary strainer into a clean wide-mouthed can. Save your scrap fat (cooked or uncooked) and all types of bones—cooked, uncooked or dry.

When you have collected a pound or more of fat dripping, take it to your meat dealer who will pay you the established price for the dripping and the scrap fat. Or you can dispose of them through any Municipal or Salvage Committee collection system. IN EFFECT in your community.

Be a munition maker right in your own kitchen. For instance, there is enough explosive power hidden in ten pounds of fat to fire 49 anti-aircraft shells. So—every day, this easy way, keep working for Victory for the duration of the war.

The Greek Nation

WHILE WE WATCH the growing strength of the active forces of the United Nations on all fronts, we are frequently reminded of the many democratic countries who are for the present under Axis domination and are unable to fight openly for their freedom. Among these nations is Greece, whose heroic resistance to the Axis invasion has aroused great admiration. The recent anniversary of Greece's Independence day has again brought to attention the many admirable qualities of her people. In March 1821, one hundred and twenty-two years ago, the Greek people won their independence from the Ottoman Empire, and since that time the modern Greece has developed. There have been periods of internal strife and of foreign disputes, but in the years preceding this war, Greece had become a fully united nation with every prospect of an assured and successful future.

Patriot Army Resists Enemy

Greece is a country with a great and ancient cultural heritage. The people also have the Western outlook toward democracy, and their profound belief in this was demonstrated when their country was invaded. The Greek armies inflicted overwhelming defeat on the Italians, who were the first to enter the country. When Germany came to the aid of her ally, the Greek resistance was finally overcome. There remains, however, an army of 30,000 patriots who carry on the fight. This army wrecks trains, dynamites bridges, sabotages public utilities and in every way possible causes trouble for the invading forces. It is said that every man, woman and child in Greece aids this army, and that in spite of the situation in their country now, the spirit of the Greek people is not broken, and that they resist the enemy in every possible way.

Supplies And Food Are Sent

More than a million people, or approximately one-fifth of the entire population of Greece, have died or been physically incapacitated by starvation since the Nazi occupation of the country. Many others have been executed or imprisoned, and the full fury of Nazi barbarism has been felt there. The situation has been fully realized throughout the United Nations and Canada, and Canadians have helped in many ways to relieve some of the sufferings of the Greek people. A number of shipments of Canadian wheat have been sent, as have other foodstuffs and supplies. These have been distributed under the supervision of the International Red Cross Society. Generous support has also been given here to the Greek War Relief Fund, through which food and medical supplies are sent. In these ways the people of Canada are showing their sympathy and admiration for Greece and are doing much to maintain the splendid morale of the people there.

Certified Seed Pays

Canadian Potato Growers Could 'Easily Double Average Yield' The average yield of potatoes in the British Isles in 1942 was 280 bushels per acre or about double the average yield in Canada. The lower average yield in Canada appears due to the more general use of mediocre seed, states John Tucker, Manager Seed Potato Section, Special Products Board, Dominion Department of Agriculture. With good certified seed yields of nearly one thousand bushels per acre have been obtained and yields of nearly five hundred bushels per acre are not uncommon in good potato-growing areas every year.

An instrument has been developed that enables blind persons to make precision inspection of certain machine products in war industries.

An All-Time Record

British Magazine Pays Tribute To 'Greatest Of Canada's Navy' The British magazine "Shipping" in its March issue paid tribute to the Royal Canadian Navy and termed its recent growth "one of the war-time surpluses." It recalled that in August, 1942, one-third of the North Atlantic convoy route was allotted to the R.C.N., the other two-thirds to Britain and the United States. "Who could have thought three years ago that Canada would loom as large as that in no other time as a naval power?" said the publication. "To be 30 times as large in personnel as when the war started has been done by no other navy; probably an all-time record."

LETTER-WRITING PROBLEMS CAN BE SOLVED SO EASILY

Famly Conference Over a Note! Stuck again! Every time she writes a letter, the whole family has to puzzle over it. "Is this right," she asks pathetically. "Well—is it?" "I got your invitation. Thanks for asking me. I can come." Sounds awfully flat, but no one's sure how to fix it! How different when you have pointers on letter-writing, samples to guide you. No choppy, crude sentences, no per-chewing then. To a very informal invitation you reply chatily. "You were a dear to invite me." Or to a more formal one: "It is delightful of you to ask me to dinner on the fifteenth at half-past seven. I will be happy to come." Such pleasing letters attract the kind of people you like to cultivate, and they certainly influence your business standing. An employer is impressed when you know the up-to-date business phrases—"enclosed is" rather than "enclosed please find," "received" instead of "to hand." Our 32-page booklet has 24 sample letters, including letters of sympathy, congratulation, friendship application. Gives letter etiquette, errors to avoid; how to make letters interesting. The Future Of Gold

New Monetary Unit Will Be Based On Precious Metal Enemies of, and scoffers at, the gold should take careful note of the post-war plans reportedly now being made in discussions between United Nations representatives. Reports are that spokesmen for Britain and the United States have drawn up a draft agreement calling for establishment of an international exchange clearing authority which will keep accounts in terms of a new monetary unit, based on gold and to be called the Bancor. Quite apart from arguments in favor of gold as the measuring stick of value is this inescapable and very practical fact: The big three United Nations powers all have a very important stake in gold—the British Empire and Russia are the world's great gold producers; the United States is the world's great gold holder.

No matter what some people may say against gold, any government, less than completely mad, is certainly not going to add to its fiscal problems by taking action that would render gold a less desirable property. A proposal such as that now reported, should encourage no one to talk about the product of an important Canadian industry—Toronto Financial Post.

Kept Them Cool

Trainmen Had To Supply Ice Blocks For Polar Bear Cubs The baggage car crew of a C.N.R. train en route to Quebec recently had the task of supplying ice blocks to keep three polar bear cubs cool. The cubs, en route to their new home in the zoological gardens at Charlottetown, Que., were caught in the Churchill district, 1,000 miles north of Winnipeg. They passed through Winnipeg. The cubs were springled daily with cold water. Ice blocks were placed on top of their crates to keep them from getting too warm. Made Flight From India To Washington With Sick Soldiers Elsie Ott is a young lady who's just had her share of exciting new experiences. Elsie is an army nurse—but that's just the beginning of the story. She's also the first and only American woman to be awarded the coveted air medal. She deserved it for 29-years-old Elsie was in sole charge of five dangerously ill soldiers when they were flown all the way from India to Washington. What's more, she'd never in her life been up in a plane before being assigned to this responsible job. Elsie had been stationed in India for nine months when she suddenly received orders to prepare for the flight. The five patients travelled in the bomb bay of the plane which flew to Ottawa by way of Africa stopping over each night so that the soldiers could receive medical care and rest. Elsie now is taking a course in air evacuation so that she can do more nursing in the clouds.

Extensive Plan For Irrigation Of The Prairies

Ottawa.—A plan for the development of irrigation and other water conservation projects in the prairie provinces calling for a total expenditure of $111,308,000 was presented to the House of Commons post-war reconstruction and re-establishment committee by George Spence, director of operations of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act.

In his brief on the future possibilities of large scale development in the prairie provinces, Mr. Spence said there is a group of eight irrigation projects costing approximately $16,692,000 which could be constructed at once. These included the St. Mary and Milk river development in Alberta, which had already been recommended to the committee, and the Swift Current, Sask., irrigation project now under construction.

He said the second group of six irrigation projects, costing approximately $1,422,000, was practically ready for construction. Surveys had been completed but some additional information was still required and with adequate staff these could be ready in a year.

Preliminary surveys for another group of 12 irrigation projects at a rough cost of $48,011,000 had been made. Investigation still required to be made in greater detail but sufficient information was available to indicate that they were all quite feasible and desirable.

Mr. Spence said still another group of six irrigation projects, as yet unsurveyed, was known from reconnaissance to be possible. The total cost of these had been estimated by a comparison with other projects, to be about $15,290,000.

The total estimated expenditure of $81,415,000 would provide irrigation for about 2,234,000 acres which, in addition to the area now irrigated, would make a total of 5,000,000 acres, he said.

Mr. Spence added that another group of water development projects, including storage on the Bow, Red Deer, North Saskatchewan and Clearwater rivers for power and irrigation, and a number of other useful projects, estimated at approximately $29,593,000 would make the grand total for all projects $111,308,000.

"Allowing 60 per cent. for labor and 40 per cent. for materials, the distribution would be, labor $66,785,000 and material $44,523,000."

NEWS FOR CANADA

Should Make People Enthusiastic Over Fourth Victory Loan

Toronto.—There was good news recently from overseas for Canadians who have been buying Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates so enthusiastically during the past two years.

The Commander of the Canadian Army, Lieut.-General A. G. L. McNaughton, declared, "For many months now there has been an ever-rising flood (of munitions) to carry forward our purpose against the enemy." He listed the munitions flood to include warships, transport air craft, guns and many other weapons of war and praised the constant and intense endeavor in this country to develop new and better weapons which would bring an advantage to the Dominion troops over the enemy.

The distinguished head of Canada's army injects a new spirit of enthusiasm into the hearts of Canadian people at the approach of the Fourth Victory Loan when he confirms the fact that our Bond purchases of yesterday have been turned into hard materials of warfare to beat the enemy.

On the heels of this statement from the Canadian general we heard from Cairo, where a military observer declared that Canadian tools had played a major part in whipping the Afrika Korps.

"I did not observe a single workshop which did not contain one important tool stamped 'made in Canada,'" he said.

Let us never forget that above all else our act in purchasing Bonds is a blow that the Germans will surely feel.

HAS AVIATION PLAN

General Bernard Montgomery, commander of the British Eighth Army in North Africa.

Britain Offers World Banking Currency Plan

London.—Great Britain proposed the most far-reaching world banking and currency plan for the expansion of world trade thus far advanced by any major power with publication of a white paper by Lord Keynes, economist and adviser to the exchequer.

Going considerably farther in some directions than the United States treasury's proposal for a currency stabilization program announced by Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau, the British plan nevertheless announces similar objectives. Both are advanced as a basis for discussion.

Lord Keynes calls his proposed mechanism an international clearing union, from which countries in temporary need of funds to finance international trade would borrow, and in which countries with a favorable balance of payments would accumulate credits.

The plan places responsibilities on both creditor and debtor countries to work toward balancing of the world economy.

Lord Keynes describes his proposal as providing the same facilities between countries that a banking system provides with nations. He writes:

"No depositor in a local bank suffers because the balances, which he leaves idle, are employed to finance the business of someone else. Just as the development of national banking systems served to offset a deflationist pressure which would have prevented otherwise the development of modern industry, so by extending the same principle into the international field we may hope to offset the contractionist pressure which might otherwise overwhelm in social disorder and disappointments the good hopes of our modern world."

Lord Keynes' plan makes no fixed proposal for the amount of gold or capital which the union would have. He suggests each united nation be given fixed quotas as to the amount of borrowing which they may do, based on their average trade balances over a period of time, and rather flexible quotas as to the amount of credit they may accumulate.

He proposes transactions between the countries operating in the union be in terms of a new currency to be called "bancor." Its value fixed "but not unalterable so" in terms of gold, and accepted as the equivalent of gold. Local currencies would be stabilized as to rates, which may be adjusted through certain procedures, in terms of bancor. The dealings through the union would supplement and balance dealings directly between countries, but not replace them.

The United States proposal, giving apparently considerable more prominence to gold, would make the clearing currency a unit to be called, equal to 10 gold dollars.

The proposals diverge sharply on representation as to the governing board. The United States treasury suggests a plan under which the United States would have at least 25 per cent. of the voting power, and an effective veto on important decisions, because they would require a 60 per cent. vote.

RUSSIA PLEASED

People Like News Of Growing All Offensive Over Germany

Moscow.—The news of the growing Allied air offensive against Germany and occupied countries was read joyfully by the Russian people, who began immediately to speculate whether it was a build-up for an invasion of Europe.

"The way American planes are increasing their activities in the air over Europe," one Russian said, "leads us only to one conclusion—her forces are getting stronger and soon should be strong enough to lead the attack by land."

Identical Twins Fly In Same Bomber

Sergeant Doug and Sergeant Ernie Todd, left to right (if it makes any difference to you), are identical twins, from Winnipeg, Man., serving with an R.A.F. squadron in England. These 23-year-old lads fly together in the same Stirling bomber. Both are wireless air-gunnery, but have solved the problem of staying together by alternating positions. One night Ernie goes as wireless operator and Doug as mid-upper gunner. Next night they change over. They have never been separated. Nearest separation came when they worked on different levels at a gold mine at Sioux Lookout, Ont.

Studying Camouflage Methods

British and Canadian officers from the Camouflage School of the Canadian Army on a visit to study camouflage methods at the Pratt Institute Art School in Brooklyn, New York. Left to right, examining models of camouflaged industrial buildings in the Pratt Institute laboratories are: Captain Marcel Godfrey, Pacific Command; Lieut. James C. Boudreau, Pratt Institute, Commander of Squad 211-5 U.S. Civil Air Patrol; Lieut. John C. H. Porter, Royal Canadian Engineers; Major John N. C. Lewis, Royal Engineers; Lieut. A. E. Cleve Horn, Royal Canadian Army Service Corps; and Captain William H. M. Collison, Royal Canadian Artillery.

Experts In Far East Would Like Japs Disarmed

Washington.—Far Eastern diplomats and experts assembled by the Institute of Pacific Relations were revealed to have proposed that Asiatic troops of the Allies occupy Tokyo temporarily after the war and that Japanese be completely disarmed.

They also urged that all of Japan's empire possessions be taken from her, including Korea, Manchuria and the mandated Pacific islands. Chinese representatives indicated that their country desires possession of the island of Formosa.

The diplomats rejected proposals that Emperor Hirohito's palace be destroyed and expressed doubt Japanese war criminals could ever be punished properly.

A suggestion Japanese forced labor battalions be sent into China to repair war damage there was opposed by Chinese who argued that the cure for "Parasitic Japonica" lies not only in beating the Japanese in war but also in making peace seem attractive enough that the Japanese people will prefer it to war.

These hitherto unpublished facts were made public in a report, entitled "War and Peace in the Pacific," which was distributed at an institute luncheon addressed by U.S. Undersecretary of States Welles. The diplomats and experts met privately last December at Mont Tremblant, Quebec. The meeting, attended by representatives of all the Pacific Powers, canvassed the whole field of war and post-war co-operation in that area.

Without official authority, it was attended chiefly by men in official capacity who are familiar with Pacific problems.

Other high lights of proposals

Now Brigadier

Brigadier A. D. Wilson, whose appointment as chairman of a western officers' selection and appraisal board has been announced at national defence headquarters. For the past year he has been commandant of the Gordon Head, B.C., officers' training centre.

listed in the report:

1. Creation of a permanent United Nations organization and an early conference of United Nations officials of the highest calibre to consider military, economic and political problems.

2. Establishment of a regional organization for the Pacific area alone to deal with the development of self-governing institutions in what are now colonial areas. Native peoples would be included in such governments.

3. Settlement of the Indian independence question through a commission of Indians aided by Pacific powers.

4. An international post-war police force, consisting chiefly of air and naval forces.

5. Chinese representation on the Anglo-American materials, shipping and munitions boards in Washington. Sharpest exchanges among the delegates came at the final session when a Canadian member said U.S. had not made up its mind as to what it will "do about the principles of the Atlantic Charter."

"I am certain," he said, "that the British people would sweep from office any government which fails to keep its promise in relation to the Atlantic Charter, and I am certain that if the present governments fail to give liberation to the common people of the world, the people will demand other leadership."

An American retorted that the Atlantic Charter was in the tradition of the American people and that America will move as rapidly as Britain in implementing its principles.

LIFE SENTENCE

Given Man In Dublin Offering To Work For Reich

London.—A man who wrote to the German legation in Dublin expressing a willingness to work for the Reich was given a life sentence in Old Bailey, today.

The maximum sentence under the law was imposed on William Frederick Craven, 28-year-old farm laborer and avowed admirer of Hitler. A former member of Sir Oswald Mosley's British Union of Fascists and interned twice during the war, Craven was rejected by the army because of his sympathies.

Anthony Eden Gives Report On U.S. Talks

London.—Foreign Secretary Eden, discussing his recent conferences in Washington before the House of Commons, disclosed he had invited U.S. State Secretary Hull to visit London and said he was satisfied there is "complete agreement" between Britain and U.S. on the "future policy toward France."

He described his conversations in Washington as similar to those had more than a year ago in Moscow with Stalin and Foreign Commissar Molotov.

He also reported that he and U.S. authorities "found a very close similarity of outlook" on post-war problems.

"I am satisfied," the foreign secretary said, "that as regards the future policy toward France there is complete agreement between us."

Eden said "there had been some misunderstanding in this country of the purpose of the United States administration had in mind in maintaining relations with Vichy," but that these misunderstandings had been smoothed out.

"We naturally wanted to see all sections of France prepared to fight the common enemy united and together," he added.

He said an agreement on policy toward Spain, Portugal, Turkey and other European neutrals was reached and plans had been made for an improved exchange of information on enemy and enemy-occupied territories.

He said his discussions in Washington fell mainly under three headings: First, "operational matters—immediate questions concerned with the conduct of the war," second, "political cooperation between us in connection with actual military operations that have taken place or will take place," and third, questions arising out of the war.

Eden said he thought "the prime minister was satisfied with the progress that was made" in the discussion of questions concerning the conduct of the war.

"I came back," Eden said, "greatly encouraged by the large measure of general agreement which we found and I am certain that will be of great value to us in the exchanges we shall have, both with the United States and other governments who are our allies."

This was the first reference he made which seemed to apply to Russia.

At the time of his Washington talks, it was assumed that one purpose of his visit was to bring about closer relationships between the Soviet Union and U.S., a task London Times editorial suggested should be one of the principal functions of British diplomacy.

APPROVES PLAN

Medical Association Thinks Health Insurance Good Idea For Canada

Ottawa.—The Canadian Medical Association, in a submission presented to the House of Commons social security committee, expressed full approval of the principle of health insurance, coupled with suggestions along the lines of some features in the government's draft health insurance bill.

The submission was read by Dr. T. C. Routley, C.M.A., general secretary, who was introduced by Dr. A. E. Archer of Lamont, Alta., president. Dr. Routley said that while some of the members had studied the draft bill now before the committee the constituent members of the association had not seen it and it was hoped the medical profession throughout the country would soon examine it in detail and be in position to discuss it.

"We visualize for Canada a system of health insurance which will be more all-inclusive and efficient than any which has yet been devised and operated anywhere," said the C.M.A. submission.

CHURCHILL AGREES

The Fighting French leader delayed his trip for conferences with Gen. V. K. Glazov, his commissioner in French North and West Africa, at request of Eisenhower.
